Jonathan Mann studied the organ in Launceston with the late Royland Jordan, with whom he gained his ARCM and entry to the Royal College of Music. Whilst there, he studied choral training under Sir David Willcocks, and the organ with John Birch (Chichester Cathedral), being awarded the Parratt and Haigh prizes for organ playing in his third year. This led to a further year of study, after graduating, specialising in organ playing (with John Birch) and theory and composition with Dr William Lloyd Webber.

Returning to Cornwall, he resumed studies with Royland Jordan, and was for many years Organist and Choirmaster of St Mary Magdalene's Parish Church, Launceston. He has broadcast on both radio and television. He directs the Launceston Choral Society, and is Assistant Music Director of the Launceston Male Voice Choir, as well as being Chairman of the Royal School of Church Music, Cornwall Area, and Diocesan Organ Advisor.

Having spent some twenty-five years teaching music in a large comprehensive school, he now works full time for the Launceston Steam Railway. In his spare time, he drives steam locomotives on the Talylyn Railway in Wales, designs railway publicity materials, and plays the Cinema Organ!

St Bartholomew's Church, Lostwithiel

Entry £5

to help maintain the fabric of the Church

FOSB raises money to maintain St Bartholomew's Church building, and has recently made a grant of £32,000 towards the Tower and Spire Project.

Fundraising is achieved partly by running events such as this one, and partly by appealing for donations, Gift Aided whenever possible.

Regular, modest but comfortably sustainable, donations are particularly welcome. If 500 of us contributed the price of a bunch of flowers or a pint of beer, £2.50 (say) by monthly standing order, that would raise £15,000 per year and put the regular maintenance of this lovely building on a sound financial basis. Because it's worth it!

For details see our Brochure and/or visit www.fosb.org.uk, or ring me, Douglas Steven, on 01208 871231.
