Jonathan Mann

Jonathan Mann studied the organ in Launceston with the late Royland Jordan, with whom he gained his ARCM and entry to the Royal College of Music. Whilst there, he studied choral training under Sir David Willcocks, and the organ with John Birch (Chichester Cathedral), being awarded the Parratt and Haigh prizes for organ playing in his third year. This led to a further year of study, after graduating, specialising in organ playing (with John Birch) and theory and composition with Dr William Lloyd Webber.

Returning to Cornwall, he resumed studies with Royland Jordan, and was for many years Organist and Choirmaster of St Mary Magdalene's Parish Church, Launceston. He has broadcast on both radio and television. He directs the Launceston Choral Society, and is Assistant Music Director of the Launceston Male Voice Choir, as well as being Chairman of the Royal School of Church Music, Cornwall Area, and Diocesan Organ Advisor. Following the death of Dudley Savage (his Cinema Organ 'mentor'), he has succeeded him as Honorary President of the Tamar Organ Club, which has installed a Compton Organ at Dingles Fairground Heritage Centre, Lifton, Devon.

Having spent some twenty-five years teaching music in a large comprehensive school, he now works full time for the Launceston Steam Railway. In his 'spare' time, he drives steam locomotives on the Talylyn Railway in Wales and on the Isle of Wight Steam Railway, designs railway publicity materials, and plays the Cinema Organ!
